Manuel is UP Visayas' first summa cum laude

RAOUL Dannel A. Manuel makes history as the first summa cum laude graduate of UP Visayas. The BS Applied Mathematics major scored a GWA of 1.099, the highest not only among the graduating Class of 2015 but in the history of UPV. It would not come as a surprise to those who personally know him. He was also the class valedictorian of the UP High School in Iloilo, Class of 2011 and likewise class valedictorian of the SPED – Integrated School for Exceptional Children (Iloilo City) in 2007.

When asked on how he feels to be UPV's first summa cum laude, Manuel has this to say: "It is a very humbling experience. I know that I could have not made it without the support of my family, friends, classmates, teachers and fellow members of student organizations that I have joined. To be an achiever in UP is really difficult if one is alone so I am blessed to have people who have always been supportive of me even in my college life."

Manuel is not your typical nerd who confines himself within the four walls of the classroom. He said that he sought to learn as much as he can so that his UP education would not be limited to the four walls of the classroom. He was a very active student leader, was the Chairperson of the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) Student Council (AY 2014-2015), and was often seen in the frontlines during student protests and rallies.

"As an Iskolarng Bayan I had to open my eyes to the realities around me and look for ways to become active in the affairs inside and outside of the University. My UP education instilled in me a desire to use my potentials to advance genuine social change," he said.

It is indeed a rare feat that this consistent University Scholar gave as much as he did in his academics as well as in various student and community activities and came out with exemplary achievements in both.

Apart from being active and taking leadership roles in the CAS Student Council, Manuel is the Lead Convenor for the Youth for Accountability and Truth Now – Panay Alliance (2014 to the present), was the Vice Chairperson of the UPV OIKOS Ecological Movement (2013 – 2014), the Secretary of the Legal Network for Truthful Elections (LENTE) - UPV Chapter (2013 – 2015), the Treasurer of the UPV Mathematics Circle (2011 - 2013), served as Internal Affairs Committee Member for Elektrons (2012-2013) and a member of the UPV Delegates of Untainted Commitment to Effectuate Service (2011 to 2015).

Some of his community involvements included serving as a speaker in the following events: 1) 10th LUBAS Visayas-Wide Student Press Convention, Iloilo City (January 29 – February 1, 2015), 2) Google Student Leaders Summit, UPV Miagao, Iloilo, April 8, 2015, 3) Leadership Training for Elementary Pupil Leaders, Iloilo City, 3) Leadership Training for High School Student Leaders, Jaro, Iloilo City, and 4) Voters' Education Activities in Brgy. Malagyan, Miagao and Brgy. Calumpang, Molo, Iloilo City on April 18 and May 1, 2013, respectively.

Manuel

In addition, Manuel has also receive numerous awards and distinctions. To name some, he was a recipient of the highly competitive and prestigious UP Presidential Scholarship from 2012 up to the time he graduated. He was the BPI Anak Expat awardee in 2013, one of the Mga Bagong Rizal: Pag-asang Bayan national awardee in 2011, and won 2nd place in the National Philippine Statistics Quiz in 2011.

During his four years of college life in UPV, Manuel was also quite busy in organizing, facilitating and attending, various, leadership training and forums.

So what would be life after graduation for this super achiever?

Manuel said he still does not have final plans as to what he will do after graduation. "Most likely, I will pursue a master's degree in applied mathematics," he stated.

"I am not really aiming to be rich or to use my talents to enrich myself materially. I have simple joys and I want to live a life of purpose," so said one who has truly embodied the ideals of UP, academic excellence, service to the community and love for one's country.

Manuel is not only making history as UPV's first summa cum laude. The University of the Philippines will be having the various Commencement Exercises of its constituent universities in the month of June for the first time as a result of the shift in the academic calendar that started in August 2014. ### University Of The Philippines Visayas OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR

Message

To the UPV Class of 2015:

THE 36th Commencement Exercises of UP Visayas this 26 of June 2015 has two milestones worth remembering.

First, along with the rest of the constituent universities of the University of the Philippines, this is the first time that we will have our Commencement Exercises in June as a result of the shift in the academic calendar implemented in the recently concluded academic year (August 2014 to May 2015).

This was one of the many challenges posed by the shift because the month of June ushers the beginning of the rainy season in the country. In anticipation and preparation for this, the administration deemed it best to conduct the ceremony inside the covered court. Therefore, you, the Class of 2015, are pioneer graduates of the new academic calendar.

Second, you have among your fellow graduates, the first summa cum laude of UP Visayas, Raoul Dannel A. Manuel, a BS Applied Mathematics major from the Division of Physical Sciences and Mathematics, College of Arts and Sciences, who scored a GWA of 1.099.

These two milestones are worth remembering as you leave your beloved Alma Mater. The shift in the academic calendar is just consistent with UP as a trailblazer. The hardships and difficulties we encountered with this shift and how we have adapted and overcame them are also marks of the UP character.

Indeed UPV is very proud to have its first summa cum laude. Manuel has truly embodied the ideals of UP – academic excellence, service to the community and love for one's country.

Even as we are all proud of you for having earned your cherished UP diploma, remember to serve the country with a sense of humility because you have been fortunate enough to be given the best education in the country.

Mabuhay kayong lahat!

Rommel A. Espinosa, Ph.D.
Chancellor

Morales earns highest GWA among UPVTC's graduates

Jessa Amarille

Morales

MARILOU Gorpido Morales was born on November 23, 1994 at Pambujan, Northern Samar. She is the second child of Mr. Luis Morales, a fisherman, and Mrs. Delia Gorpido, a full-time mother. Morales has one older sister who had just graduated from law school this year and a younger brother who is currently in Grade 9. Two aunts are extending their help to the family to sustain the children's education.

Even at a young age, Morales had shown commendable enthusiasm and competence in her studies. She graduated as Class Valedictorian from Pambujan Central Elementary School in 2007 and Class Salutatorian from University of Eastern Philippines Laboratory High School in 2011. In the year 2009, she was selected by the Girl Scout of the Philippines Visayas Region as Peer Educator on STI/HIV-Aids and in 2010 was designated as Chief Girl Scout Medallist.

Morales enrolled at the University of the Philippines Visayas Tacloban College and took up BA Communication Arts in 2011. She had excelled in her classes while simultaneously attending to her extracurricular activities. She had been consistently awarded as University Scholar or College Scholar in her four-year stay in the college.

While maintaining her grades, Morales held positions in various student organizations, namely, UPVTC Student Council (DH Representative from 2013-2014 and Vice Chairperson from 2014-2015), Gabriela Youth, UPV Tacloban Formation (Chairperson from 2014-2015), and UP Lente (President from 2014-2015). In 2011, she joined Pulso han Mag-aaram, a political alliance of students in UPVTC. Morales is also a member of the League of Filipino Students (LFS), National Union of Students of the Philippines (NUSP), and UP Hingyap, a geographic organization of UPVTC students from Northern Samar. In 2014, she was sent as delegate to the Philippine Model Congress held at the Senate Hall in Pasay City.

Graduating as magna cum laude with GWA of 1.395 and Class Valedictorian of Class 2015 of UPVTC, Morales aspires of landing a job where she will get to travel and practice photography. She dreams of obtaining a Master's degree from an international university in the future. Finally, she advocates for a scientific, nationalist, and mass-oriented education.

CM top student wants to give back and serve the country

"UP Visayas has been one of the greatest battlefields in my life. It taught me not just to be academically inclined but also to participate in the activities that fosters holistic development. It is time for me to return the favor by using my skills and experiences to serve our country," said Vhilan L. Onato, the top graduate of the College of Management, about his plans after leaving the portals of UP Visayas.

A product of public school education, 21-year old Onato remained to be on top of his class. The BS Accountancy cum laude graduate led the 2015 graduating class of the College of Management with a general weighted average (GWA) of 1.452.

Onato graduated valedictorian of Class 2010 of Mina National High School in Mina, Iloilo and was also the class valedictorian of Mina Central School in 2006 in the same town. He was a recipient of the GMA Award for leadership, science and technology, mathematics, and academic excellence in high school.

When he entered UP Visayas five years ago, he was an honorific scholar from 2010-2015. When interviewed, the humble achiever said that it was never his dream to be the top graduate of his college. Nevertheless, he was overwhelmed when he learned about this.

"The first thing that came to my mind was to thank everyone, especially God and my family, who has been part of my roller coaster journey," Onato said.

The hardworking student realized that the road to become a Latin honor graduate requires great effort and sacrifice in his early years in the University. "That's why I worked hard. For me this is one way of giving back to my family, aunt, loved ones, and friends who have given their undying support and love and have gave up much for me," he added.

In his five years in college, he managed to balance his studies with his extra-curricular activities. He was a comptroller of UPV-Junior Philippine Institute of Accountants (JPIA), a coordinator of Scions Softball Team, an active member of UPV Student Registration Volunteer, president of UPV Junior JPIA Officer, and a representative of Bloc B Officer.

Furthermore, he joined various academic competitions. He was a finalist in a finance competition conducted by the Financial Executives Institute of the Philippines' (FINEX) in 2014. He also won in the PICPA-Iloilo organized accounting contests in 2013 and 2014.

Onato, who hails from Mina West, Mina, Iloilo is the youngest brood of three of Mr. Vicente F. Onato and Mrs. Yolanda Onato, both retired public school teachers. His older sibling, Yolyvic, was also a BS Accountancy graduate of UPV while Freda Eula, the eldest, took her BS Nursing from West Visayas State University. (Lenilyn B. Gallos)

Mistio leads SOTECH graduates

HIGHLY motivated to learn, resourceful, and excellent interpersonal skills are the key strengths that Reynelyn Lou E. Mistio, a BS Chemical Engineering cum laude graduate, possesses. These qualities made her the top graduate of the School of Technology (SOTECH) with a general weighted average (GWA) of 1.523.

Many people would say that it is difficult to enter UP and it is even more difficult to get out, hence to graduate in UP especially to be on top of your class with Latin honors is no joke.

"Perhaps the hardest difficulty I have encountered as a student is keeping myself motivated. Piles of school work, tough exams, and daunting plant design requirements seem like an endless tunnel. The path to the UP Sablay was seemingly insurmountable. Faced with two options, either to give up or press on, I continually reminded myself that I should do my best, not for my own sake but for my family, for our country, and for the glory of God," Mistio said who embodies the virtues of a true Iskolar ng Bayan.

A native of Simbalom, Antique, Mistio is a consistent achiever. She was the class valedictorian of Sibalom Elementary School in 2006 and graduated With Highest Honors from the Philippine Science High School-Western Visayas in 2010. She continued to excel in her studies in college. She maintained to be an Honorific Scholar of the University as well as a DOST-SEI scholar from 2010-2015.

Being people smart, this young achiever is also a leader among her peers. She was the grand prefect or president of the University's organization of chemical engineering students, organizing activities that focused on developing the talents and skills of students while contributing to the improvement of the school and spearheaded several pioneering activities in the campus such as the Science and Technology fair, technical forums, and student-teacher "swap day," among others. She was also elected as Vice President of the (1) Junior Philippine Institute of Chemical Engineers-Panay Chapter and (2) Membership and Internal Affairs of the 2014 Philippine Institute of Chemical Engineers-Junior Chapter Visayas.

Her drive to learn new things enabled her to balance her studies with work in spite of the many pressures. During summer vacations, she was busy doing internship jobs. She was a refinery processes/utilities intern at Pilipinas Shell Petroleum Corporation-Tabangao Refinery. She had also her internship at the College of Fisheries and Ocean Sciences to familiarize herself in the use of various equipment and significant techniques in the culture of aquatic organism, and local and national regulations on the use of aquatic resources. She also worked as a cashier/salesclerk in a local enterprise in her hometown.

"Life after college will still be full of challenges, but I realized that victory is certain when you have clearly defined goals and you do things for a noble cause," Mistio noted.

As what Ty Howard says "motivation is a stimulant that makes its users potential high achievers." Having said this, who knows what's in store for this optimistic, highly motivated, and well-rounded achiever in her future career after college. (Lenilyn B.

Juliano is CFOS' top graduate

Juliano

"WHEN I entered UP four years ago I assumed and believed that by the time I will graduate I will be prepared to take life's every challenge. It did not turn out that way. UP did not prepare me for everything but it has taught me how to prepare in order to be prepared for everything."

So said Marizka G. Juliano, this year's top graduate of the College of Fisheries and Ocean Sciences (CFOS) with the GWA of 1.73, cum laude, the highest among her peers.

The BS in Fisheries graduate who is born in San Jose, Antique, was very much involved various in student organizations during her college life such the UP Ichthyophilic Society, the UP Antiqueño, Catalyst, and the National Alliance of Youth Leaders. She also coordinated and volunteered for "Let's Do it Philippines," a national clean-up drive (November 2015), "Save Philippine Seas," a sea and earth advocacy group and TEDxUPV, a non-profit organization devoted to spreading ideas, usually in the form of short, powerful talks where Technology, Entertainment and Design converged (March 2015). In addition, she also helped organized the The Catalyst Project – Creating leaders. Building communities, organized by Catalyst in partnership with UNESCO Asia-Pacific (March – June 2015)

Students and graduates of CFOS are mostly noted for their messianic zeal to save the seas, the oceans and marine life. Juliano is no exception. She volunteered in the "Restoration of Lamawan-Pony Marine Protected Area Activity Center" at the Municipal Environment and Natural Resources Office of San Jose de Buenavista, Antique (May 2015 up to the present) and served as enumerator for the following activities: 1) "Evaluation of Marine Protected Areas in San Joaquin, Iloilo" funded by the UP Alumni Association-Greater Chicago Chapter (October 2013-December 2013), 2) "Baseline Survey for the Fisheries Based Livelihood Rehabilitation Program for the Typhoon Haiyan Emergency Response in Region VI" funded by United Nations-Food and Agriculture Organization (August 2014-September 2014) and 3) "Ex-Ante Analysis of PCAARRD Industry Strategic Plan (ISP) for Mussel" funded by Philippine Council for Agriculture, Aquatic, and Natural Resources Research and Development-Department of Science and Technology (March 2015-April 2015).

May the zeal to preserve the seas and oceans, particularly that of the Philippines with its rich but rapidly dwindling marine resources, continue to burn in Juliano's heart long after she has left UPV. (Lyncen M. Fernandez)
